Custom Corporate Comedy

The Pretty Late Show

The highly acclaimed corporate talk show that informs while it entertains. Instead of speeches from a podium, speakers become "guests" on the Pretty Late Show. Host Mike Carbone brings out the best in each guest as their information is delivered in an interview style. The audience feels like they are at the taping of an actual TV talk show and their associates are the stars!

Live & Interactive

Unleash the power and energy of rock & roll at your next meeting. Live & Interactive with Mike Carbone transforms your meeting room into an MTV-style sound stage. Mike plays host to entertaining videos, executive interviews, special guests and carefully crafted comedy segments. All with the rawness and readiness of a rock & roll special event. Custom designed to deliver your message and energize your audience.

CNN: Conference News Network

Live from your conference meeting room, CNN features news and views from around the world... and around your organization. Listen to one-on-one Larry King style interviews with your executives, video update reports, special guests, panel discussions... all anchored by Mike Carbone. All custom designed to deliver your message to your audience.
